Dear Parents

We are delighted to share with you our Church Inspection Report, following the recent inspection undertaken at the school on Thursday 12th March 2015.

The school performed very well in the inspection and the Inspector judged the distinctiveness and effectiveness of St. John's Infants' School as a Church of England school, to be good.

We are particularly proud how the report highlights the following points:

- Pupils are well cared for and make good progress
- Staff have a good understanding of the school's chosen values of care, compassion, understanding, forgiveness and mutual respect and incorporate these in their planning.
- The school's Christian character ensures that behaviour is good; pupils show kindness and consideration towards one another and are respectful of adults.
- The school's attitude to inclusion enables children with diverse needs and faith backgrounds to be accepted by all in the school community.
- Staff are committed to finding opportunities for the development of spirituality in all their pupils.
- Collective worship is inclusive in that pupils of other faiths or none are happy to participate.

Thank you to all the parents who contributed to the inspection; I'm sure you feel as we do that your comments were appropriately reported on.

We feel the inspection was a useful process for the school and we shall use the recommendations of the report to continue developing the Christian foundation of the school.

Best wishes to all our families

Wendy Turner
